Dear Mr. Carnes,

I am a new home owner, and have relied on Wicca Davidson for the second time now to help me find just the right place.

Wicca has taken into account who I am and what matters to me, and has been willing to wait longer and work harder rather than settle for something that would merely do. In my case, Wicca did more than find a home and neighborhood that perfectly matched my needs. There were two other offers on this house. Rather than merely take the highest bid, the former owner wanted to know who was interested in her home. I don't know what Wicca told her about me, but whatever it was made a difference and the home is now mine.

Wicca is conscientious, cares about the needs of her clients, offers important and sound advice, and goes the extra mile to make the stressful experience of buying a home as smooth and rewarding as possible.

She's wonderful.

Sincerely,

Claire Orologas
