Dear Mr. Seay:

I am writing to express my appreciation for Wicca Davidson, one of the realtors associated with your firm. Wicca was my agent, assisting me with the sale of my late mother's house in Darnestown, Maryland. This was a complicated process, as there were family members still residing in the house, and my mother left behind more 80 years worth of accumulated possessions.

Wicca was able to successfully negotiate a sale of the home within two months after listing, at the best possible price. But she also went above and beyond, working with my relatives as they transitioned to new living arrangements, and helping to clear the home of furniture, memorabilia, housewares, and so on. I know I could not have managed this on my own — And I doubt there is another realtor anywhere who would have undertaken all that Wicca did, and done so with such grace and compassion.

Your firm has an irreplaceable asset in Wicca Davidson. I will certainly be recommending her services to anyone who needs a realtor. As you know, Wicca is a former geriatric nurse. She once told me that she views her current vocation as being very similar to nursing — it entails helping people who are in difficulty. It is Wicca's focus on the people involved which makes her exemplary among real estate agents.

Sincerely,
